DETAILED ACTION

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

1. A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on 09/10/2009 has been entered.

Double Patenting

2. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

3. Claims 1-49 are rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-20 of U.S. Patent No. 6,977,504.

Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because both the present application and the '504 patent claim the same method or apparatus for the excitation and reception of marker tracking signals through the use of an interrogating signal. However, the '504 patent additionally discloses "a receiver for analyzing the plurality of inputs to identify and correct a phase shift from the plurality of inputs to implement a coherent receiver". The '504 patent's identification and correction of phase shift is not patentably distinct from the presently claimed, "determining corrections to a sensed signal based upon the analyzed outputs of the plurality of sensing elements" because it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to implement the receiver of the '504 patent, which is claimed to correct a phase shift, for determining the corrections to a sensed signal of the present invention.

4. Claims 1-49 rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claim 1-13 of U.S. Patent No. 7,026,927.

Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because both the present application and the '927 claim the same method or apparatus for the excitation and reception of marker tracking signals. However, the '927 patent additionally discloses "a receiver for analyzing the plurality of inputs to remove noise from the plurality of inputs, said receiver acting on the plurality of inputs provided during the observation interval". The '927 patent's identification and correction of noise is not patentably distinct from the presently claimed, "determining corrections to a sensed signal based upon the analyzed outputs of the plurality of sensing elements" because it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to implement the receiver of the receiver of the '927 patent, which is claimed to correct for noise, for determining the corrections to a sensed signal of the present invention.

Claim Objections

5. Claim 6 is objected to because of the following informalities: Regarding claim 6, there is not antecedent basis for the limitation, sense coils. For the purpose of examination sense coils is being interpreted to read sensing elements. Appropriate correction is required.

Response to Amendment

6. The Affidavit filed on 09/10/2009 under 37 CFR 1.131 is sufficient to overcome the Anderson et al. (USPN 7,158,754) reference.

Response to Arguments

7. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-49 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.
